Dear Reader,

Nathaniel is Jillian's guardian angel and true love. Every night, he appears in her dreams but her desire for a normal existence overshadows her love for him. When the alluring Dax sets his sights on her, she falls for him and his ability to give her what she longs for.

Nathaniel warns her that Dax's influence will be catastrophic for them both, but she convinces herself that he is simply jealous. As her relationship with Dax matures, she grows cold and callous, consumed by vanity and selfishness and her once beautiful dreams become nightmares as Nathaniel is transformed into a hideous 'Imarona' or Deformed One.

When she dies in a car accident, she faces the now terrifying Nathaniel, who must leave her for healing. She is forced to either continue her mortal life with another guardian, who is less concerned about her safety, or abandon those in the mortal realm who need her most, in order to stay with him.

'The Veil' is a gothic romance with a splash of horror that transcends dimensions and offers a unique twist on guardian angels.

Sincerely,
Eryn Edelen
